

'I Will Never Forget You'

(Isaiah 49:15)

KIMBERLY ORTIZ

WELCOMED: Ruby Griffin stands outside the Rachel's Women's Center in downtown San Diego, operated by Catholic Charities, Diocese of San Diego. The agency is providing her a shelter bed and basic services and is helping her to find a place to live as part of its mission to help the most vulnerable. Senior citizens are the fastest-growing segment of the homeless population in San Diego County.

Lord's Promise: 'I Will Never Forget You'

The Southern Cross

 The following are excerpts from Pope Leo XIV's message for the Sixth World Day of Grandparents and the Elderly, observed on July 26, on the theme "I will never forget you."

Dear brothers and sisters,
Through the prophet Isaiah, the Lord promises that he will never forget any of us. He assures us that he has engraved our faces on the palms of His hands and that his love is greater than a mother's love for her child (Isaiah 49:15).

The painful feeling of being forgotten is, unfortunately, shared by many people, and among them are quite a few elderly people. God's love, which forgets no one, offers itself as an act of justice and a response to the anonymity in which human life all too often ends up lost.

The lives of many elderly people seem to be covered by a veil that shrouds them in oblivion. This is what happens in homes where loneliness reigns and also in those care facilities where each person's uniqueness risks being reduced to a bed number or an illness.

The celebration of the World Day of Grandparents and the Elderly is an opportunity to rediscover that the Church is called to be a mother to all.

May this day, therefore, be an inspiration for everyone, especially the young, to revive the beautiful custom of visiting their grandparents, the elderly members of the family and even those who have no one to visit them.

The Church understands the suffering of her elderly members; she knows that they are all too often considered a burden; she is aware that a profit-driven economy weakens family ties; she knows that many elderly people are left behind by children who are forced to migrate or, in some cases, to fight in wars. For each of these reasons, she joyfully proclaims the Lord's promise: "But I will never forget you!"

Ready for Beach Walks? ‘Speed Friending’?

By Denis Grasska

“Are you looking to find Catholic friends? Are you looking for activities to not only meet (others), but to get out and enjoy San Diego?”

“We provide those,” said Nancy Wesseln, director of San Diego Catholic Adult Community (CAC).

Thanks to the ministry’s “ACTIVE 60s+” group, that includes ongoing events for those past retirement age.

The ministry was founded almost 15 years ago. It has three age-specific groups — in addition to ACTIVE 60s+, there is also Young Adults (for ages 18 to 39) and the Adult Community (for late 30s through early 60s). The ministry hosts additional events, like its annual Epiphany Party and summer bonfires, where members from all three age groups are invited.

It’s supported by three parishes — Our Mother of Confidence in University City; St. Brigid, Pacific Beach; and the St. James-St. Leo Catholic Community, Solana Beach — but its events are open to Catholics throughout the diocese.

Of CAC’s 1,897 active members, there are currently 629 in the ACTIVE 60s+ group, Wesseln said. Ranging from their mid-60s to mid-70s, they include single, married, divorced and widowed members.

“Just like (with) young adults, there’s different stages of being a retired person,” said Wesseln, 65, who explained that the members of this group include recent retirees who aren’t ready for the slower-paced activities offered at the typical parish-based senior ministry.

“They like hiking, they like walking, they like being out in the community serving,” she said, “and they don’t feel like they fit what parishes are offering.”

Every week, ACTIVE 60s+ offers pickleball on Tuesday, a walk at Mission Bay on Wednesday, and a beach walk starting at St. Brigid Parish on Friday.

Monthly events include a Zoom session on a faith-related topic every second Monday, trivia at the DoubleTree in Del Mar on fourth Thursdays, and a walk around Lake Murray on third Saturdays.

Wesseln said that there are also monthly socials. The format for these varies; depending on the month, it could be a happy hour, a potluck, or a “speed friending” event. The latter was held May 31 at the DoubleTree, attracting more than 25 people.

“Speed friending” follows a format similar to speed dating, with attendees seated at tables of four and then being made to rotate a few times. Wesseln contrasted it with parties where “you only meet one or two people.”

“This (‘speed friending’) makes sure you meet everybody briefly,” she said, “and, at the end, then you get to socialize.”

At other socials, she will have attendees change tables after each course. For example, attendees will enjoy their appetizer at one table, before moving on to other tables for their salad, main entrée and dessert.

What feedback has Wesseln received about ACTIVE 60s+?

“Usually, it’s that they’re so happy that they found me,” she said. “And they come back. It’s not a ‘one-and-done.’ I am so impressed with how many keep returning.”

She believes that what keeps them attending is that, “when they come, they feel welcomed and connected.”

“My goal,” said Wesseln, “is that people know that they are welcomed wherever they are in San Diego and wherever they are in their walk with Christ.”

How Do You Become Unforgettable?

By Father Charles L. Fuld

Who is that person?

Who earned that degree of love and closeness that you will never forget them? Your mom? Your dad? Your spouse? Your sidekick in those military years? That student who helped carry you through all those years of school?

We encounter all kinds of people during our lives. Most are passersby, but some make such an impression that they will never be forgotten — even though they have since been taken away by years, miles or even death.

Yes, this is a value we alone can give — sometimes, later in life, when we finally realize the impact a person had on us.

Years ago, when I was pastor of a church in San Diego, I celebrated a funeral Mass for a man I barely knew. The eulogy given by one of his friends was so bland that I decided to go into the crowd with a cordless microphone and asked, “What do you remember about this man?”

Sure enough, the answers I heard were the same bland comments: “He was a good neighbor,” “He loved to play cards,” etc., etc.

I finally gave up and headed back to the sanctuary when I noticed a man, a stranger, sitting all by himself. I decided to ask him the same question. His answer was, “He saved my life during the war!”

ADOBESTOCK

PRESENCE: Making a difference in someone’s life takes intentional effort, consistency and, most of all, unconditional love.

Wow!

No one knew that he had served in the military or that he was a hero!

After the service concluded, that stranger became the center of attention for all those who wanted to find out more about the man they thought they knew so well. Yes, he had earned his place in the stranger’s heart forever.

So, how do you become such a person, someone another person or lots of people will never forget?

Jesus spelled it out for us: Love one another. Instead of being judgmental, be forgiving and helpful. Help one another — not as you have been helped, but way beyond that. Forgive others not seven times, but 77 times. If necessary, carry them in your arms like a lost sheep.

Yes, that’s quite the challenge, but the difference is worth every bit of your effort.

Christ calls us to make a difference in other people’s lives. We just finished Mothers’ Day (May 10) and Fathers’ Day (June 21); ahead is the World Day of Grandparents and the Elderly (July 26) and Veterans’ Day (Nov. 11). You can make these — and all the days in between — special occasions for yourself and others. And, yes, you can become a person never forgotten.

The 'Very Presence' of Older People Is a Grace

By Denis Grasska

 Augustinian Father Gary Sanders is a familiar face at Nazareth House of San Diego.

Father Sanders, 76, celebrates Mass at least three times a week — on Monday, Wednesday and Saturday — for senior residents of the facility, which is operated by the Sisters of Nazareth.

“They bring me joy,” he said of the residents, “and ... by my ministry, I know I bring them joy.”

Father Sanders said that about 40 people or more attend his typical daily Masses, but the room has been “filled” for special liturgies, like Christmas and for the Easter Vigil on Holy Saturday.

During his visits, he is also available to hear confessions, to confer the anointing of the sick or to speak individually with residents. He said the latter is “always a delight.”

In this ministry, which began almost two years ago, Father Sanders has found that many Catholics of advanced years possess a great sense of humor and a reverence for the sacred.

Some residents will approach him during his visits to tell him a joke, he said, and they are “really into Mass” and “treasure the Blessed Sacrament, receiving Communion.”

“I really feel very much a priest when

WORSHIP: Augustinian Father Gary Sanders celebrated Mass for the residents and staff of Nazareth House on June 20.

“I’m at Nazareth House,” said Father Sanders, who was ordained 51 years ago. “Part of the reason I became a priest is I wanted to serve the Lord and serve others, and that certainly takes place there. And I receive so much back; it’s just a wonderful place to be.”

Father Sanders feels that it’s “obvious” that one of the reasons he has been “accepted” by the residents is that he, too, is “in that senior citizen bracket.”

“I know that I’m not a teenager; I’m not a young priest,” he said.

Before he began celebrating Masses regularly at Nazareth House, he was already a frequent visitor there. He serves aging Augustinians as their representative with the Province of St. Augustine in California and, over the years, many Augustinians have spent their final years at Nazareth House. Two Augustinians — Fathers James Mott and Gary Rye — are current residents.

Father Sanders suspects that it was because of this ongoing role, which made him a known quantity at Nazareth House, that he was invited to celebrate regular Masses there.

Asked to reflect on the theme selected by Pope Leo XIV for the 2026 World Day of Grandparents and the Elderly, “I will never forget you” (Isaiah 49:15), he shared some thoughts.

Father Sanders said that, when discussing the issue of older people feeling forgotten, some cast blame on adult children for being too busy or neglectful to visit. But in his experience as a priest, he said, this represents “by far the minority.”

He said that older people can distance themselves from loved ones out of an exaggerated concern about being a “burden” on them.

“The fact is, they’re not a burden; they’re a grace,” said Father Sanders, who noted that older people have “lived long enough to know that not every single (challenging) thing ... is going to be a disaster” and are “great models of praying people.”

“I will never forget you’ is the understanding of God’s love for us,” he said, “but it’s also our call ... to reach out to people who are getting older or have some limitations, or problem, but their mind, heart and soul are what we’re graced by.”

“It is such a grace,” he continued, “and ... we are graced when we’re able to serve those people, because their very presence serves us.”

By Aida Bustos

Imagine what it would be like to sleep on the cold cement, maybe with just a piece of cardboard underneath you.

Now imagine that you're a senior citizen, struggling to survive on the streets while suffering with chronic ailments.

That's the reality for a growing number of older adults, the fastest-growing segment of the unsheltered population in San Diego County. Data released by the Regional Task Force on Homelessness showed that people aged 55 and older accounted for 33% of the unsheltered population this year, compared to 29% last year. More than 40% of the seniors were experiencing homelessness for the first time in their lives, driven by soaring rents and other living costs.

For decades, Catholic Charities, Diocese of San Diego, has worked tirelessly and compassionately to give homeless women and men a safe respite from the streets, and offered a variety of resources to help them to get back on their feet.

This service is a part of a broader commitment by the organization to ensure that vulnerable senior citizens across San Diego and Imperial counties are not forgotten. This effort includes a senior nutrition program, senior residential services and a Foster Grandparents initiative that pairs seniors with at-risk students.

The organization operates the Rachel's Women's Center, a drop-in day facility located in downtown San Diego to help homeless women. The center extends a warm welcome, offers food and basic services and connects the women with public, non-profit and community resources.

The staff does more than that, however.

"It's a place of hope and encouragement during difficult times," said the CEO of Catholic Charities, Appaswamy "Vino" Pajanor, during a public event June 10 at the center.

The event, called AEC Cares, gathered volunteers from around the country to remodel and refresh the 42-year-old facility in an intensive day of donated work and materials.

Catholic Charities also operates Rachel's Night Shelter, a 35-bed, short-term emergency shelter for unhoused women, and Rachel's Promise, a 50-bed shelter for women, both located downtown. The latter is to expand this summer to 210 beds and will serve women and children.

Taken together, the three facilities have served around 4,000 women from 2019 to early June of this year. Of those, around 21% were 55 to 64 years old, and nearly 10% were age 65 and older.

The County of San Diego's Behavioral Health Services funds Rachel's Women's Center, and the San Diego Housing Commission funds Rachel's Promise.

'Trauma on Top of Trauma'

Antoinette Fallon is the director of Homeless Services for Catholic Charities, where she has worked for 17 years.

"Think about how unsafe it feels to be sleeping on the sidewalk," she said. "People get their stuff stolen, they get kicked while they're sleeping, women wake up and there's a man on top of them. Trauma on top of trauma."

In fact, around 60% of the organization's unhoused clients self-reported that they had been the victims of trauma, such as domestic violence and sexual assault. The director believes the number is much higher.

"In my experience, every single person who walks through our doors... has a history of trauma," Fallon said.

She stressed that everything the center does is designed to avoid re-traumatizing the women.

Around two-thirds of the women reported that they suffered from a mental health problem, including substance abuse, she said. And 41% reported they had chronic health conditions.

Working with the County of San Diego, the center connects the women to a mental health clinic, healthcare personnel and other experts to address their problems.

The staff links older adults with organizations that specialize in helping seniors, including to find housing.

'Your Next-Door Neighbor'

The center is open from 7 a.m. to 5 p.m. every day of the year, including holidays. The women come and go throughout the day, totaling between 80 to 85 in recent days.

The staff serves coffee and a continental breakfast in the morning, and a hot lunch at midday. "For some people who are unhoused, that may be the only hot meal they get all day," the director said.

After the remodeling project, the women can now enter through a bright, expanded reception area, enjoy new furnishings, and use updated bathrooms and showers.

The staff members offer the women services to address the barriers that prevent them from being housed permanently. They connect them with recovery programs, health screenings, housing navigation and an employment specialist, all coordinated by a case manager.

The women can take showers, get emergency clothing, or simply hang out and talk to one another, all away from the harsh realities of the street.

Over the years, Fallon has encountered countless women in crisis. What stands out to her?

"I look at them and I realize I could be one of them," she said. "There is ers, nurses, and women who had been living for years a stable life until their husbands or partners died, leaving them without the means to support themselves.

"These women really are your next-door neighbor."

'Taking Care of Me'

Ruby Griffin lived alone in Chicago after her husband of 60 years died in 2021. She wanted to live close to her daughter and her two grandchildren, who live in San Diego. So, last April, she boarded a train in her hometown and headed west.

As soon as she landed, Griffin, 79, made her way to the San Diego Rescue Mission to ask for help to find housing she could afford. The staff immediately took her to the Rachel's Promise shelter.

There, the staff arranged a bed for her and for meals and other basic services nearby at Rachel's Women's Center, all coordinated by a case manager. They helped her to apply for apartments.

On a recent Tuesday morning, Griffin reflected on the help she was receiving at the shelter — and couldn't stop smiling.

"They are taking care of me so I can save my money so that I can get a place to live," she said. "I feel like I can live into my 80s knowing that there's a place here that can take care of me."

She paused for a moment, then continued.

"I lost my joy when my husband passed away. Catholic Charities has given me my joy back."
